Description

The H125 outclasses all other single-engine helicopters for performance, versatility, low maintenance, and low acquisition costs, while excelling in high and hot and extreme environments. It is a member of Airbus' Ecureuil family, which has accumulated almost 36 million flight hours worldwide.

With built-in manoeuvrability, excellent visibility and low cabin vibration, the H125 has earned a reputation as a true multi-mission workhorse, becoming a common sight at heliports, hospital landing pads, police operations centres and airports around the world.
